MICHAEL STRANGE, well-known writer, in private life Mrs. Harrison Tweed, returns from Europe with her 13-year-old daughter whose father is John Barrymore. If her mother permits it, another interesting Barrymore face may be added to the screen within few years.

Michael Strange, who admires Russia, says the future of Russian women "will be magnificent, especially when they get enough to eat." She found Berlin "very peaceful and very dead."

The Barrymore child, her mother says, is "not interested in the stage, but interested in painting." Her father, who once made pictures illustrating articles written by this writer, used to declare that he was not interested in the stage. He was mistaken. You may not find your fate, but it finds you.

MISS MASON, who built up a famous school for girls, has left a fortune to carry on the school according to her ideas, of which these are some:

Girls should not smoke or drink.

Girls should be modest.

Girls should be taught the importance of having better children, eugenics and motherhood.

Girls should have a Christian education.

Christian education is desirable if parents are Christians. If the parents are Mohammedans, Shintoists, Buddhists, or whatever, the daughter should be raised that way.

Sappho and Hypatia were brilliant girls, although they had no Christian education.

Tod[illegible] Milestone in Ef[illegible] Free Shops of Minors.

THOUSANDS ARE RELEASED

Final Reports Due Tonight in Consumers' Drive in Marion.

While Marion awaited final reports due tonight from 250 women who have conducted a city-wide drive to bring consumers under the NRA, national officials of the recovery program wrote child labor out of American industry and business and prepared to reorganize their forces to meet problems that have grown out of the blue eagle drive.

It was estimated that 1,000,000 employers had agreed not to employ children under 16 years.

Reorganization plans of the NRA were announced by Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, following the resignation of Dudley Cates, assistant representing industry.

Child Labor Ban Effective Today

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—Child labor was history today in hundreds of thousands of business establishments.

Every signer of President Roosevelt's reemployment agreement—estimated by NRA officials at around 1,000,000—was pledged to not employ children under 16 years. Other hundreds, functioning under codes and modified agreements, similarly were pledged though in some instances allowed to employ children from 14 to 16 outside school hours.

Marking the day too was a definite start by the NRA on a second important phase of its career—that of staff consolidation and reorganization for the problems to succeed the whirl-wind blue eagle drive.

Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, told of his reorganization intentions after the resignation of Dudley Cates, assistant administrator representing industry, because of differences of opinion with his chief.

Has Men Picked

Johnson said his personnel shifting plans and Cates' retirement were not related, but used the occasion to disclose that he carefully has picked men for key jobs in what he predicted will be "a cream organization."

This reorganized NRA will deal with the barely scratched problems of code administration, including such questions as price control, the adjustment of labor difficulties, the [illegible] ation of code authority com[illegible], higher purchasing power [illegible] wage and salary earners and the abolition of destructive competition without monopolistic suppression of small units.

Just how many children were affected by the blue eagle today was not estimated, but 1930 census figures showed 197,621 persons between 10 and 15 years of age gainfully employed outside of agriculture.

With volunteer workers winding up the week's intensive campaign, Johnson reported "certain towns have gone clear over the top, not only with 100 per cent cooperation on the part of employers who have signed the President's agreement, but also by consumers."

In announcing the resignation of Cates, Johnson said differences of opinion over policy and interpretation of the law had arisen between the two.

Ford Still Silent

Jutting prominently among NRA difficulties were the continued silence of Henry Ford toward the automobile code which became effective Sept. 5, and the labor's persistent criticism of that code's language permitting hiring and firing on a merit basis. Ford has until Tuesday to qualify for a blue eagle.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in a statement issued as a member of NRA's labor advisory board, that 29 additional industries were seeking to adopt the automobile labor provisions.

"This is a revival of ancient slander on organized labor," Green said * * * "Among the industries now so keen for this clause are the very ones that in the past have decimated their labor forces to root out union men, all in the name of individual merit."

Green promised a last-ditch fight against a second approval of the automobile provision.

Drive Workers To Report Tonight

Leaders of the NRA consumers drive were optimistic today as they prepared to receive final reports tonight on the results of their efforts to enlist every Marion housewife in the national program to speed prosperity's return.

Basing their estimates on final reports which showed that 1,024 families in the Third ward had signed consumers pledges, Mrs. Grover Snyder, general chairman, said it was hopeful that nearly 100 per cent of Marion housewives would be enrolled in the program by tonight.

She estimated that the number of families signed in the Third represented close to 100 per

16 CASES ON COURT DOCKET

Grand Jury To Begin Consideration of Charges Next Tuesday.

WILL TAKE THREE DAYS

Three Forgery Cases and Auto Thefts Included in in List.

Sixteen cases are tentatively slated for consideration by the September term grand jury when it convenes Tuesday, Sept. 5, records of Prosecutor Russell M. Wilhelm show. He estimated the jury probably will be in session three days to consider the cases and make its regular inspection of the county jail.

The calendar of the jury now contains three forgery cases, two each charging rape, breaking and entering, manufacturing whisky, auto theft, misuse of mortgaged property, and one each of cutting with intent to wound, assault and battery and perjury.

The three forgery cases, all based in issuance of questionable checks, involve C. E. Jenkins of south of Marion, charged with issuing a $7 check to himself and forging the signature of T. H. Wyatt on July 21; J. C. McClelland of Marion, charged with forging the signature of George Dallis on a check for $1.10 issued May 31; William B. Martin, charged by Police Chief William E. Marks with forging the signature of Mrs. Mattie Miller on a check for $12.50, issued Aug. 19.

Second Investigation

The jury is expected to conduct a second investigation into the rape charge against LeRoy Miley, 21, of Richland township, investigated by the May term jury. Although an indictment for rape with a count for incest, returned against Miley in May, was quashed, he has been held in the jail for further consideration of the case, officials said. Miley's 16-year-old niece is involved in the case. The other rape case slated for jury investigation is that of Harry Ingmaier, 19, of 343 Nye street, charged with

SCIENTISTS CLASH IN LAMSON HEARING

Prosecution Introduces Surprise Witness in Attempt To Convict Stanford Man.

By The Associated Press

SAN JOSE, Calif., Sept. 1—The battle of scientists over physical evidence in the trial of David A. Lamson on charges of murdering his wife, Allene, continued today with the prospect of its becoming more intense.

It started when the prosecution produced a surprise witness, Dr. A. [illegible] Meyer, head of the anatomy department of Stanford university, whose testimony tended to support the state's contention the attractive young matron was bludgeoned to death with a 10-inch length of iron pipe in the Lamson cottage on the Stanford campus last May 30.

In contrast with testimony by autopsy surgeons earlier in the trial, Dr. Meyer said the wounds in Mrs. Lamson's skull could have been "easily produced" by the pipe.

Answering a question evidently aimed at defense intimations Mrs. Lamson's death might have been accidental, Dr. Meyer said she would have to fall down four times to produce the wounds he found. He added he also had discovered hemorrhages which were missed by the autopsy surgeons which had been caused by tugging on the hair.

WOMAN KILLED IN CARDINGTON AUTO ACCIDENT

Husband Injured as Car Crashes Into Pole on Route 42 Curve.

ENROUTE TO STATE FAIR

Victim, Resident of Cleveland, Dies Instantly of Fractured Skull.

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, Sept. 1—Enroute to the Ohio state fair, Mrs. Arthur Bower, 58, of Cleveland, was killed instantly in an automobile accident today at 9 a. m. on Route 42, one mile east of here. Mrs. Bower, wife of Arthur Bower, a commission man for the union stockyards in Cleveland, was thrown from the car against the telephone pole which the car crashed into at a sharp turn in the highway.

Mr. Bower, driver of the coupe, was pinned behind the wheel. His injuries consisted of body bruises and lacerations and a wrenched knee. Coroner Todd Caris of Mt. Gilead said Mrs. Bower died of a fractured skull. She also suffered a compound fracture of the right leg.

The accident was the second this week at the same spot. Monday a group of boys enroute to Tennessee suffered minor bruises when their automobile failed to negotiate the sharp turn, after a rain.

The body of Mrs. Bower was removed to the Curl funeral home. The family expected to send it to Cleveland this afternoon. Besides her husband, Mrs. Bower leaves a son, living in Cleveland.

Patrolman Is Suspended by Police Chief

Patrolman John Wren of 471 Pearl street was temporarily suspended yesterday afternoon by Police Chief William E. Marks.

Although Chief Marks had not submitted a report to Safety Director Emery M. Murphy at noon today it was understood the charge would be neglect of duty.

Wren, authorities said, was off his beat yesterday afternoon and did not report by telephone to the police headquarters at the required time.

The second oldest member of the department in point of service, Wren became a patrolman on July 22, 1916.

Officials said the temporary suspension climaxed a series of instances where Wren had left his beat in the last several years.

Director Murphy, by law, is given five days after receipt of a report on the suspension, to decide whether Chief Marks should be upheld or whether Wren should be reinstated.

Police department rulings provide that when an officer is suspended and the safety director upholds the suspension, he may appeal the case to the city civil service commission and from there to the courts.

It was expected that Chief Marks will submit a report of the suspension to Director Murphy this afternoon.

SLEEPING SICKNESS CLAIMS 53 LIVES

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1—During the last week the mysterious outbreak of encephalitis, or "sleeping sickness," has taken more lives and affected nearly as many persons as it did in the first three and a half weeks that it gripped this district.

Twenty-seven deaths and 185 cases were attributed to the disease during the last seven days, as compared with a total of 53 fatalities and 399 cases since the malady took its first victim July 30.

U.S. Acts To Bring Peace To Strikers

Labor Board Gets Agreements To Halt Silk Walkouts.

By The Associated Press

The blue eagle, with an olive branch in its beak, flew hither and thither over the industrial scene today to sooth dissension between capital and labor.

The national labor board at Washington announced an agreement to call off a strike of 12,000 union hosiery mill workers, set to begin today in Philadelphia. At Milwaukee, union oficials announced that 2,000 hosiery workers there also would call off a strike planned for today.

The labor board turned its attention to a strike at the Cambria hosiery mills in Philadelphia where two strike demonstrators were shot to death and 18 other persons injured in a melee yesterday.

One Refuses

Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the labor board, said this mill was the only one in the Philadelphia area which had refused to accept the board's proposed settlement, involving a free election among workers to decide whether they wanted a union or non-union policy.

Ninety per cent of the 7,000 silk workers in Paterson, N. J., left their looms yesterday. They demand collective bargaining agreements, a $36 wage scale for a 30-hour week, two looms and a one-shift system. A code presented by the Silk Association of America calls for a $13 minimum wage, 40 hours, four looms and two shifts.

Other Strikes Reported

Seven hundred broad silk weavers in Scranton, Pa., left their jobs last night. Union officials said they were dissatisfied with minimum wages in the silk code.

Other strikes dotted sections of the country. A garage in Philadelphia where drivers are on strike was set afire yesterday. At Scranton workers and miners clashed at mines. Governor Arthur Seligman of New Mexico said he probably would make a personal visit to the Gallup area, where 300 coal miners are striking under surveillance of national guardsmen.

STORM THREATENING CUBA AND FLORIDA

High Winds Are Feared; Boat With Crew of 28 Sends S. O. S.

By The Associated Press

A tropical storm moved along the north coast of Cuba today with Havana and Key West in the path it was following.

The British freighter Josephine Gray with a crew of 28, was in distress about 100 miles east of Havana, Cuba.

Answering the Josephine Gray, the steamship Athel Foam promised assistance as soon as weather conditions permit her to proceed.

In the Cuban capital merchants boarded up their doors in the expectation the storm would hit this afternoon. Waterfront residents moved to higher ground.

Indications were the storm would be felt somewhere in the vicinity of Key West. Miami looked for strong winds.

A second storm was moving west or northwest from a point about 170 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

WARD CO. ASKS NEW BUS LINE PERMIT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 1—Application of the Ward Transportation Co. for permission to abandon its Toledo-Findlay line and to extend from Lima to Findlay, Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus and Toledo, was reassigned for hearing Sept. 12, by the state utilities commission today. The case had been set for Sept. 5.

Bridge Program To Remove Traffic Hazards Mapped

Bridge improvements in Marion county that would cost approximately $6,436.10 have been recommended to the county commissioners by Surveyor Carl H. Tozzer to eliminate hazards to motorists. The board is expected to take action on the suggested program within a few days.

The biggest project in the program calls for replacement of a bridge on the Cardington road in Pleasant township near the Richland township line with a concrete beam bridge. The estimated cost of this improvement is $4,253.48.

Replacement of a bridge on the Dunbar road in Prospect township, northeast of Prospect village, to eliminate a serious hazard also is recommended. A concrete slab structure, estimated to cost $1,849.51, is recommended.

A concrete box culvert to replace a wood culvert in the Gooding pike in Pleasant township, near Owens station, is recommended at an estimated cost of $333.11.

CHEERS GREET HITLER AS CONGRESS OPENS

Enthusiastic Demonstration Breaks Out as Chancellor Mounts Rostrum.

By The Associated Press

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 1—No king opening parliament was ever received more enthusiastically than was Chancellor Adolf Hitler today when, amid the shouts of 15,000 selected Nazi followers gathered for the fifth party congress, he slowly strode through the long convention hall to the rostrum.

These delegates to the biennial congress, the first since the Hitlerites came into power, owe their present position of authority to Hitler and here had an opportunity to show their gratitude by shouting, applauding and saluting.

The hall was a riot of brown and it seemed like a gathering of military men, although Hitler's press chief, Otto Dietrich, addressing 1,500 correspondents from all parts of the world, assured them that "the Nazi [illegible] no military [illegible] are merely [illegible] conquered [illegible] Brown [illegible] against a [illegible]

Jail Break Fails To Get Freedom for Bucyrus Girl

Police had to arrest a Bucyrus woman twice last night.

Arrested first at 11:30 p. m. on Orchard street on a charge of intoxication, the young woman, Miss Viola Dennoy, 19, crawled out of the window of the woman's quarters and fled.

Within a few minutes police had traced her to North Main street where she was rearrested. After this arrest, however, she was lodged in the county jail for safe keeping.

Police said she had pried loose the screen in the window of the woman's quarters of the city prison. Her disappearance was discovered when police investigated, as a racket Miss Dennoy had been making suddenly ceased.

This morning she and Joe Smith, 23, also of Bucyrus, arrested with her last night, pleaded guilty to intoxication charges and were fined $10 and costs each by Municipal Judge William R. Martin.

TWO BANDITS GET $2,500 IN NOON ROBBERY

Three Customers and Six Employes Herded Into Rear Room by Gunmen.

POSSE IS TRAILING MEN

Manager Refuses To Open Vault; Crowd Frightens Holdup Men.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 1—Two bandits raided the First National bank here at noon today and escaped with currency estimated at $2,500.

The bandits, dressed in overalls and carrying large revolvers, parked their automobile in front of the bank, and entered the banking room, pistols in hand.

They herded three customers and six employes into a back room, and forced them to lie, face downward, on the floor. While one stood guard with a gun, the other looted the tills.

Threaten Manager

The bandits were unsuccessful in an effort to force Robert Powers, vice president and manager, to open the vault. Expressing dissatisfaction over the amount they obtained from the tills, the bandits threatened him and ordered him to work the combination that would open the vault.

Roberts ignored their threats. While he stalled for time, a crowd began to gather outside. Noticing the confusion on the sidewalk, the bandits grabbed up the money and ran to their car without making any further effort to gain access to the vault.

They drove out of the city toward Sunbury in an automobile reported to be an Oldsmobile sedan. A posse of police and sheriff's deputies in charge of Sheriff Chester McKinnie, gave chase.

A. K. Halmont, one of the customers forced to the rear room of the bank, managed to reach a burglar alarm about the time the bandits prepared to leave the bank.

Marion Notified

Marion county authorities were notified at once and began scouting the roads in southern Marion county. Police also were called, but were given only meager information about the automobile and the appearance of the bandits. It was reported that the first two figures on the license plates were 38——.

Reports reaching Marion about the number of bandits were conflicting. Authorities were informed that there were three bandits, one remaining in the car while the other two robbed the bank. Another report stated the car was left unattended while the holdup was staged.

Drive Workers To Report Tonight

Leaders of the NRA consumers drive were optimistic today as they prepared to receive final reports tonight on the results of their efforts to enroll every Marion housewife in the national program to speed prosperity['s re]turn.

Basing their estimates on final reports which showed that 1,024 families in the Third ward had signed consumers pledges, Mrs. Grover Snyder, general chairman, said it was hopeful that nearly 100 per cent of Marion housewives would be enrolled in the program by tonight.

She estimated that the number of families signed in the Third ward represented close to 100 per

16 CASES ON COURT DOCKET

Grand Jury To Begin Consideration of Charges Next Tuesday.

WILL TAKE THREE DAYS

Three Forgery Cases and Auto Thefts Included in in List.

Sixteen cases are tentatively slated for consideration by the September term grand jury when it convenes Tuesday, Sept. 5, records of Prosecutor Russell M. Wilhelm show. He estimated the jury probably will be in session three days to consider the cases and make its regular inspection of the county jail.

The calendar of the jury now contains three forgery cases, two each charging rape, breaking and entering, manufacturing whisky, auto theft, misuse of mortgaged property, and one each of cutting with intent to wound, assault and battery and perjury.

The three forgery cases, all based in issuance of questionable checks, involve C. E. Jenkins of south of Marion, charged with issuing a $7 check to himself and forging the signature of T. H. Wyatt on July 21; J. C. McClelland of Marion, charged with forging the signature of George Dallis on a check for $1.10 issued May 31; William B. Martin, charged by Police Chief William E. Marks with forging the signature of Mrs. Mattie Miller on a check for $12.50, issued Aug. 19.

Second Investigation

The jury is expected to conduct a second investigation into the rape charge against LeRoy Miley, 21, of Richland township, investigated by the May term jury. Although an indictment for rape with a count for incest, returned against Miley in May, was quashed, he has been held in the jail for further consideration of the case, officials said. Miley's 15-year-old niece is involved in the case. The other rape case slated for jury investigation is that of Harry Ingmaier, 19, of 343 Ny. street, charged with

SCIENTISTS CLASH IN LAMSON HEARING

Prosecution Introduces Surprise Witness in Attempt To Convict Stanford Man.

By The Associated Press

SAN JOSE, Calif., Sept. 1—The battle of scientists over physical evidence in the trial of David A. Lamson on charges of murdering his wife, Allene, continued today with the prospect of its becoming more intense.

It started when the prosecution produced a surprise witness, Dr. A. [illegible] Meyer, head of the anatomy department of Stanford university, whose testimony tended to support the state's contention the attractive young matron was bludgeoned to death with a 10-inch length of iron pipe in the Lamson cottage on the Stanford campus last May 30.

In contrast with testimony by autopsy surgeons earlier in the [trial], Dr. Meyer said the wounds in Mrs. Lamson's skull could have been "easily produced" by the pipe.

Answering a question evidently aimed at defense intimations Mrs. Lamson's death might have been accidental, Dr. Meyer said she would have to fall down four times to produce the wounds he found. He added he also had discovered hemorrhages which were missed by the autopsy surgeons which had been caused by tugging on the hair.

WOMAN KILLED IN CARDINGTON AUTO ACCIDENT

Husband Injured as Car Crashes Into Pole on Route 42 Curve.

ENROUTE TO STATE FAIR

Victim, Resident of Cleveland, Dies Instantly of Fractured Skull.

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, Sept. 1—Enroute to the Ohio state fair, Mrs. Arthur Bower, 58, of Cleveland, was killed instantly in an automobile accident today at 9 a. m. on Route 42, one mile east of here. Mrs. Bower, wife of Arthur Bower, a commission man for the union stockyards in Cleveland, was thrown from the car against the telephone pole which the car crashed into at a sharp turn in the highway.

Mr. Bower, driver of the coupe, was pinned behind the wheel. His injuries consisted of body bruises and lacerations and a wrenched knee. Coroner Todd Caris of Mt. Gilead said Mrs. Bower died of a fractured skull. She also suffered a compound fracture of the right leg.

The accident was the second this week at the same spot. Monday a group of boys enroute to Tennessee suffered minor bruises when their automobile failed to negotiate the sharp turn, after a rain.

The body of Mrs. Bower was removed to the Curl funeral home. The family expected to send it to Cleveland this afternoon. Besides her husband, Mrs. Bower leaves a son, living in Cleveland.

Patrolman Is Suspended by Police Chief

Patrolman John Wren of 471 Pearl street was temporarily suspended yesterday afternoon by Police Chief William E. Marks.

Although Chief Marks had not submitted a report to Safety Director Emery M. Murphy at noon today it was understood the charge would be neglect of duty.

Wren, authorities said, was off his beat yesterday afternoon and did not report by telephone to the police headquarters at the required time.

The second oldest member of the department in point of service, Wren became a patrolman on July 22, 1916.

Officials said the temporary suspension climaxed a series of instances where Wren had left his beat in the last several years.

Director Murphy, by law, is given five days after receipt of a report on the suspension, to decide whether Chief Marks should be upheld or whether Wren should be reinstated.

Police department rulings provide that when an officer is suspended and the safety director upholds the suspension, he may appeal the case to the city civil service commission and from there to the courts.

It was expected that Chief Marks will submit a report of the suspension to Director Murphy this afternoon.

SLEEPING SICKNESS CLAIMS 53 LIVES

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1 — During the last week the mysterious outbreak of encephalitis, or "sleeping sickness," has taken more lives and affected nearly as many persons as it did in the first three and a half weeks that it gripped this district.

Twenty-seven deaths and 185 cases were attributed to the disease during the last seven days, as compared with a total of 53 fatalities and 399 cases since the malady took its first victim July 30.

U.S. Acts To Bring Peace To Strikers

Labor Board Gets Agreements To Halt Silk Walkouts.

By The Associated Press

The blue eagle, with an olive branch in its beak, flew hither and thither over the industrial scene today to sooth dissension between capital and labor.

The national labor board at Washington announced an agreement to call off a strike of 12,000 union hosiery mill workers, set to begin today in Philadelphia. At Milwaukee union officials announced that 2,000 hosiery workers there also would call off a strike planned for today.

The labor board turned its attention to a strike at the Cambria hosiery mills in Philadelphia where two strike demonstrators were shot to death and 18 other persons injured in a melee yesterday.

One Refuses

Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the labor board, said this mill was the only one in the Philadelphia area which had refused to accept the board's proposed settlement, involving a free election among workers to decide whether they wanted a union or non-union policy.

Ninety per cent of the 7,000 silk workers in Paterson, N. J., left their looms yesterday. They demand collective bargaining agreements, a $36 wage scale for a 30-hour week, two looms and a one-shift system. A code presented by the Silk Association of America calls for a $13 minimum wage, 40 hours, four looms and two shifts.

Other Strikes Reported

Seven hundred broad silk weavers in Scranton, Pa., left their jobs last night. Union officials said they were dissatisfied with minimum wages in the silk code.

Other strikes dotted sections of the country. A garage in Philadelphia where drivers are on strike was set afire yesterday. At Scranton workers and miners clashed at mines. Governor Arthur Seligman of New Mexico said he probably would make a personal visit to the Gallup area, where 300 coal miners are striking under surveillance of national guardsmen.

STORM THREATENING CUBA AND FLORIDA

High Winds Are Feared; Boat With Crew of 28 Sends S. O. S.

By The Associated Press

A tropical storm moved along the north coast of Cuba today with Havana and Key West in the path it was following.

The British freighter Josephine Gray with a crew of 28, was in distress about 100 miles east of Havana, Cuba.

Answering the Josephine Gray, the steamship Athel Foam promised assistance as soon as weather conditions permit her to proceed.

In the Cuban capital merchants boarded up their doors in the expectation the storm would hit this afternoon. Waterfront residents moved to higher ground.

Indications were the storm would be felt somewhere in the vicinity of Key West. Miami looked for strong winds.

A second storm was moving west or northwest from a point about 170 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 1—Application of the Ward Transportation Co. for permission to abandon its Toledo-Findlay line and to extend from Lima to Findlay, Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus and Toledo, was reassigned for hearing Sept. 12, by the state utilities commission today. The case had been set for Sept. 5.

Trade Shows No Sign of Stopping Forward Move

Business Continuing Advance, Dun & Bradstreet Report in Weekly Trade Review.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 — Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., in their weekly trade review today said that business and trade have continued their forward movement with no signs of hesitancy.

"The unrestrained weight of national action," commented the review, "has been timed to a nicety to receive the full impact of the normal intensity of the heavier force of the fall buying season. Bridge Program To Remove Traffic Hazards Mapped

Bridge improvements in Marion county that would cost approximately $6,436.10 have been recommended to the county commissioners by Surveyor Carl H. Tozzer to eliminate hazards to motorists. The board is expected to take action on the suggested program within a few days.

The biggest project in the program calls for replacement of a bridge on the Cardington road in Pleasant township near the Richland township line with a concrete beam bridge. The estimated cost of this improvement is $4,253.48.

Replacement of a bridge on the Dunbar road in Prospect township, northeast of Prospect village, to eliminate a serious hazard also is recommended. A concrete slab structure, estimated to cost $1,849.51, is recommended.

A concrete box culvert to replace a wood culvert in the Gooding pike in Pleasant township, near Owens station, is recommended at an estimated cost of $333.11.

CHEERS GREET HITLER AS CONGRESS OPENS

Enthusiastic Demonstration Breaks Out as Chancellor Mounts Rostrum.

By The Associated Press

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 1—No king opening parliament was ever received more enthusiastically than was Chancellor Adolf Hitler today when, amid the shouts of 15,000 selected Nazi followers gathered for the fifth party congress, he slowly strode through the long convention hall to the rostrum.

These delegates to the biennial congress, the first since the Hitlerites came into power, owe their present position of authority to Hitler and here had an opportunity to show their gratitude by shouting, applauding and saluting.

The hall was a riot of brown, and it seemed like a gathering of military men, although Hitler's press chief, Otto Dietrich, addressing 1,500 correspondents from all parts of the world, assured them that "the Nazi storm troopers have no military character whatever and are merely political soldiers who conquered bolshevism."

Brown uniforms were projected against a background of red banners, flag and bunting, in the center of which was the Nazi [illegible] a black swastika in a circle of white.

Jail Break Fails To Get Freedom for Bucyrus Girl

Police had to arrest a Bucyrus woman twice last night.

Arrested first at 11:30 p. m. on Orchard street on a charge of intoxication, the young woman, Miss Viola Dennoy, 19, crawled out of the window of the woman's quarters and fled.

Within a few minutes police had traced her to North Main street where she was rearrested. After this arrest, however, she was lodged in the county jail for safe keeping.

Police said she had pried loose the screen in the window of the woman's quarters of the city prison. Her disappearance was discovered when police investigated, as a racket Miss Dennoy had been making suddenly ceased.

This morning she and Joe Smith, 23, also of Bucyrus, arrested with her last night, pleaded guilty to intoxication charges and were fined $10 and costs each by Municipal Judge William R. Martin.

TWO BANDITS GET $2,500 IN NOON ROBBERY

Three Customers and Six Employes Herded Into Rear Room by Gunmen.

POSSE IS TRAILING MEN

Manager Refuses To Open Vault; Crowd Frightens Holdup Men.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 1—Two bandits raided the First National bank here at noon today and escaped with currency estimated at $2,500.

The bandits, dressed in overalls and carrying large revolvers, parked their automobile in front of the bank, and entered the banking room, pistols in hand.

They herded three customers and six employes into a back room, and forced them to lie face downward on the floor. While one stood guard with a gun, the other looted the tills.

Threaten Manager

The bandits were unsuccessful in an effort to force Robert Powers, vice president and manager, to open the vault. Expressing dissatisfaction over the amount they obtained from the tills, the bandits threatened him and ordered him to work the combination that would open the vault.

Roberts ignored their threats. While he stalled for time, a crowd began to gather outside. Noticing the confusion on the sidewalk, the bandits grabbed up the money and ran to their car without making any further effort to gain access to the vault.

They drove out of the city toward Sunbury in an automobile reported to be an Oldsmobile sedan. A posse of police and sheriff's deputies in charge of Sheriff Chester McKinnie, gave chase.

A. K. Halmont, one of the customers forced to the rear room of the bank, managed to reach a burglar alarm about the time the bandits prepared to leave the bank.

Marion Notified

Marion county authorities were notified at once and began scouting the roads in southern Marion county. Police also were called, but were given only meager information about the automobile and the appearance of the bandits. It was reported that the first two figures on the license plates were 38——.

Reports reaching Marion about the number of bandits were conflicting. Authorities were informed that there were three bandits, one remaining in the car while the other two robbed the bank. Another report stated the car was left unattended while the holdup was staged.

CARDINGTON HOLDUP SUSPECTS ARE HELD

Morrow County Will Seek Custody of Trio Arrested in Indiana.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, O., Sept. 1 — Sheriff Fred Struble today said he will make an immediate effort to bring to Mt. Gilead for questioning in connection with the Citizens' bank holdup at Cardington last July 14 three men who are being held in Indianapolis for a series of bank holdups in Ohio and Indiana.

Sheriff Struble said he had information that led him to suspect the arrested trio robbed the Cardington bank and that he would make every effort to bring the trio to this county.

According to a news report from Columbus yesterday, the trio, [illegible] Goldstein, Clifford [illegible] and Fred Berman, all of Indiana, [illegible] confessed to the robbery of [illegible] Ohio and six Indiana [banks], including the one at Cardington.

Children's Unit of Open Air Church Gains Members

The newest development in Marion's outdoor church in Lincoln park, the children's department, is becoming a sturdy branch of the service, officers of the organization reported today.

The department now has an enrollment of 71 children, some as young as two years of age. It includes three departments, the beginners, primary and junior departments, of which the beginners' was started last Sunday with 12 children from two to five years of age.

Enrollment in the church designed for the man "without a Sunday shirt" has reached 500 persons, A. A. Van Atta, president, said. Plans for continuing the Sunday church services through the fall and winter are now under way, he said. A committee is working on arrangements for an indoor meeting place.

Instruction of the beginners department is in charge of Mrs. Jennie Shoots, who was assisted last Sunday by Mrs. Ida Johnson. The children are kept busy with colored crayon work and are told Bible stories.

Regular story lessons, such as provided most Sunday schools, form the program for the primary department. The junior department, headed by [illegible], president, hears a story on good citizenship each Sunday and in addition is studying the life of Samuel and other Biblical characters.

The entire children's department is under the supervision of "Aunt Holly" Hollandshead, assisted by Catherine Osmun. In addition to Naylor, officers of the junior department are [illegible], vice president; Jack [illegible], secretary, and Arthur Watts, treasurer. The department, organized Aug. 20 with 16 enrolled, had an attendance of 25 last Sunday.

Membership in either the children's department or the church proper is open to anyone not at present affiliated with a church or religious group.

Rev. J. B. Swain of Kirkpatrick is pastor of the outdoor church. Last Sunday his topic was "The Good Samaritan."

Will's Error

(Will Rogers Special)

SAN MONICA, Calif., Sept. 1—Well, like a lot of my big ideas, they just don't seem to work out. There must be a bit of college professor in me somewhere.

You remember a couple of days ago I wanted to have the home folks meet their senator? Now that sounded practical. But you would be surprised at the amount of resentment that has come to my roll top desk.

Why, my idea was as "wet" as the state of Washington. They all claim they don't want to see their senator. That's why they elected him, to get rid of him.

If they had wanted him at home, they would have kept him at home. So there goes another big Rogers idea in the ash can.

Yours,

Will Rogers

DARING AERIALISTS RISK THEIR LIVES

FLYING HILLS AND CLARKONIANS

Among the features with the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus this season will be found many of the most noted aerialists in spangleland. There are the iron-jawed girls who hang by their teeth while they perform in mid-air, and the beautiful women who exhibit their daring on swinging-ladders, but the most sensational, perhaps, are the corps of trapeze performers, those intrepid flyers who risk their lives in the dazzling peak of the huge big-top.

Such are the famous Flying Hills, and the thrilling Clarkonians, noted troupes of the high and lofty trapeze coming to Marion with the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus on Thursday, Sept. 7, for afternoon and night performances at the Drake grounds.

Other featured acts and displays from among the 500 stars with the big show include Clyde Beatty, who battles 40 wild and ferocious lions and tigers; the famous Hanneford family of bare-back riders with "Poodles" Hanneford, greatest of riding clowns, and over 100 other acts, displays, and novelties.

DR. FREDERICK SMITH JOINS CLINIC STAFF

Will Be Associated With Father In General Medical Practice.

Dr. Frederick Smith Jr. today joined the staff at the Frederick C. Smith clinic where he will be associated with his father, Dr. F. C. Smith in the practice of general medicine and clinic work.

Dr. Smith recently returned to Marion after completing his interneship in Ford hospital at Detroit. He was graduated from Northwestern University Medical school in June of last year. Prior to entering Northwestern, Dr. Smith attended Ohio Wesleyan university.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home on Pearl street. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Smith of 739 East Center street.

PICNIC ENDS YEAR FOR LA RUE CLUB

LA RUE, Sept. 1—The members of the Twentieth Century club held a meeting and a picnic supper at Sally Ann camp north of town Tuesday afternoon. A business meeting and papers by Mrs. Cyril T. Guthery and Mrs. Sheldon Virden wound up last year's work in the club. Mrs. H. J. Davis, executive chairman, passed out the new programs. The first meeting will be held with Mrs. E. E. Everett Oct. 3. Mrs. Theodore McElheny is the new president.

• • •

The new officers for the LaRue school reunion which was held last Sunday at the school building are: Alvin LaRue, president; M. S. Bailey, vice president; Mrs. Alvin LaRue, secretary; C. C. Holliday, treasurer, and program committee, Mrs. Sheldon Kramp, Joe Lamb, Carl McGuire and Mrs. A. W. Jones.

RENAME PRESIDENT OF CHURCH GROUP

Special To The Star

CALEDONIA, Sept. 1 — Mrs. Thelma Brocklesby was reelected president at the last meeting of the conference year for the Ladies' Aid society of Memorial M. E. church yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maude Robertson. Mrs. Myrtle Martin was named vice president; Mrs. Maude Robertson, secretary; Mrs. Evanna Irey, treasurer. Mrs. Ada Geddis was appointed devotional leader for next meeting. Mrs. J. A. Resler was a guest. Devotionals were led by Mrs. G. A. Hickson. Mrs. G. A. Hickson won the guessing box. Plans were made for a wiener roast at the next meeting at the home of the president.

Harold May left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where he will be employed.

STOCK SALES INCREASE

KENTON, Sept. 1. An increase of more than 60 per cent over seasonal livestock shipping activities as compared to previous years was noted this week at local stockyards, due, managers say, to the government buying of pigs and sows. More than 5,000 pigs had been shipped to market by local farmers Friday.

August Is Just "Average," Weather Report Indicates

August came the nearest to being the most "average" month of the year. That's the surprising thing about the month, because generally heat records are broken in the 31 days preceding September.

August, 1933, made no bids for fame. Only two days, the first and twenty-fifth, went above 90, and the highest was on the first when the mercury went up to [illegible]

The average temperature for the month was 72.51 degrees, only [illegible] above the average. The precipitation totaled 3.25, only .12 [illegible] than the average of the official records for Marion.

Marionites who have a [illegible] memory of the weather of [illegible] years will remember the August of 1918 when the city sweltered as the mercury reached the [illegible] degree line. Readings of 10[illegible] were established in 19[illegible] and 19[illegible]

Nights seemed unusually [illegible] of late [illegible] month, but the lowest readings was 52, compared with the record low of 38 in 19[illegible]

M[illegible] fairly heavy [illegible] month. On the [illegible] the precipitation [illegible] inches and last Saturday the [illegible] hit hard after [illegible] rain amounted to three quarters of [illegible] inch.

Eleven of the 31 days were clear from sunrise to sunset, 12 were partly cloudy and 8 were cloudy.

MRS. G. W. LAFFERTY DIES AT COLUMBUS

Caledonia Woman Victim of Heart Attack Following Operation.

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Margaret E. Lafferty, wife of George W. Lafferty, died yesterday at 2 p. m. at Grant hospital, Columbus of a heart attack following an operation for [illegible] Wednesday. Mrs. Lafferty was taken to the hospital three weeks ago and underwent an operation from which she recovered.

Mrs. Lafferty was born Sept. [illegible] 1869, in Caledonia, to Silas [illegible] and Sarah A. Lee Hipsher. Her marriage to C. Frank Geddis took place April 14, 1892. Mr. Geddis died March 5, 1894. She was married to George W. Lafferty Nov. 25, 19[illegible] Mrs. Lafferty graduated from the Caledonia High school in 1886 and was a teacher in the local school at Claridon, and the Lee school. She was clerk of the local school board for a number of years.

Surviving her with her husband are one sister, Mrs. Retta Underwood of Caledonia, two great nieces, Mrs. Helen Clark, Miss Kennetha Foos, a great nephew Russell Foos and a great great niece.

The funeral will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Universalist church. Burial will be made in the Caledonia cemetery.

CAR TAKEN FROM NEVADA WOMAN

Special to The Star

NEVADA, Sept. 1. A thief who apparently had hidden in the loft of a barn used as a garage stole a Chevrolet sedan, owned by Mrs. Maude Hagerman here last night.

Wyandot county authorities, puzzled by the fact that locks on the barn had not been tampered with, found evidence in the loft that a man had been hiding there when the automobile was placed in the barn. A bottle was found in the loft, and a fresh handprint on a dusty window was found.

Calling The Shot.

Will Rogers, in his contribution to the NRA appeal broadcast last Sunday night, pointed out the folly of expecting quick results from the drive to restore employment and buying power. It is impossible to plant a crop one day and reap it the next, he declared. Time will be required for money placed in workers' pockets to find its way back to employers.

The argument is sensible, but in stating it Mr. Rogers weakened it somewhat by intimating that next December would be the time when effects of the recovery program would be visible. There is questionable judgment in attempting to call the shot on an experiment so unprecedented. By focusing attention on conditions at any given time in the future, it is implied that if those conditions are not generally satisfactory the experiment has failed.

It is becoming clearer with every development of the national effort to restore consuming power that a long-time project has been started. Despite a prevailing disposition among employers to think of NRA as a temporary thing, its impression on the people will never disappear. They have seen general acceptance of the theory that capitalism must maintain consuming power to maintain itself. It will not matter greatly to the mass of the people what conditions are like next December or any proper time in the near future if they remain convinced that the idea which is being adopted through the NRA movement is sound.

There has been improvement. There will be additional improvement, if certain threatening developments can be forestalled. It undoubtedly is necessary as a part of the strategy of carrying on the experiment to warn that immediate effects cannot be demanded as the sign of success. It is anything but necessary to establish a definite point of time in the near future to balance results and failures. If the seed is good, there will be a crop to harvest.

It might be profitable and wise for Huey Long to add Max Baer or Primo Carnera to his apparently not so invulnerable bodyguard.

Capital Expenditures.

The question of providing a subsidy for businesses encountering financial difficulties in complying with recovery codes is not going to be thrown open for discussion, apparently. It seems probable that the federal government, working through the Reconstruction Finance Corp., will go ahead quietly with a program of assistance.

Obviously, many businesses which cut labor costs during the depression will be obliged to operate at a deficit for a time to meet the requirements of their codes. The United States chamber of commerce which is the central agency for receipt of complaints arising under NRA, reports many complaints dealing with this problem.

It is generally believed by officials of the chamber that such complaints come from concerns which survived the depression by cutting labor costs to the bone. Inevitably, with a leveling of costs of production, some concerns in this class will be forced out of business. Although it is not admitted openly, there is little sympathy for their plight when they are known to have reduced themselves to the sweatshop level in order to exist.

"Legitimate" businesses in this classification—and there are many—naturally expect to get aid. It is their need which shows most clearly the necessity for credit. If they cannot get credit from banks, and bankers have shown no disposition to jeopardize their depositors' safety by gambling on them, they must get it elsewhere. In this case, "elsewhere" probably will be the government when plans finally are completed.

NRA policy is to regard increases in cost of operation under industrial codes as capital expenditures to establish new enterprises. In short, money is being invested to capture greater profit. The purpose is not much different from that which caused capital to be poured into vast plants and equipment during the late period of natural expansion.

While F. D. Roosevelt, Jr. is in Spain taking an interest in bull-fighting his distinguished father is giving considerable effective attention to something of that kind in America.

Two-Thirds.

Washington's decisive approval of the amendment repealing the 18th amendment brings the number of states voting for repeal to 21, two thirds of the number from which ratifications are required to make the 21st amendment a part of the Constitution.

The Washington vote strengthens the claim of spokesmen for the repeal movement that repeal will be an accomplished fact before the end of the year. One prediction has set the early part of November as the date. Jouett Shouse, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, believes every state in the union will be carried for repeal.

Anti-prohibitionists would like to establish such a record. They could better, thereby, the record made by the prohibition amendment, which required one year and one month for ratification and received the approval of legislatures of all states, except two—Connecticut and Rhode Island. Naturally, anti-prohibitionists would like to make the vote for repeal so decisive it could not be questioned.

They have a fair start toward this goal. In those states which have held conventions on the 21st amendment there are [illegible] for ratification. The lowest percentage of wet [illegible] ance was 69 per cent in Arkansas. Alabama and Indiana showed 74 per cent wet [illegible] showed 95 per cent, [illegible] showed 99 per cent. [illegible]

Among the same [illegible] states [illegible] per cent for ratification [illegible] states did not ratify [illegible] those that did [illegible] dominated [illegible] tion on the 21st amendment [illegible] cent.

[illegible] ous [illegible]

Changes in Church Leadership.

Three [illegible] service [illegible] continue [illegible] Rev. H. E. W[illegible], pastor of the [illegible] Rev. [illegible] wood [illegible] Rev. [illegible] of [illegible] M. E. [illegible]

Their [illegible] unexpected, [illegible] regret [illegible] the sense of [illegible] It is [illegible] come to [illegible] and [illegible] the newcomers [illegible] an understanding of the [illegible] munity, and [illegible] to the [illegible] gained by their predecessors through years of close contact with Marion [illegible]

[illegible] well [illegible] will be here [illegible] the new ministers and to assist them in becoming speedily established. Without that assistance of [illegible] and substantial support, changes in pastors would be likely to endanger effective maintenance of church functions. No such damaging results are ever probable in Marion, a city which we believe can justly lay claim to being one of exceptionally strong and active religious institutions, and where pastors, old and new, are certain to have their leadership backed by cooperation from not only their own congregations, but the general public as well.

We believe that the three ministers who are leaving for other fields with the best wishes of all Marion, will take with them pleasant memories of their work and associations here and we feel equally sure that their successors will find the same spirit of loyalty and cooperation ready to aid them in making their mission here fruitful and enjoyable.

After all, the purpose of those five members of the legislature who took jobs at the state fair as a side issue may have been merely to get first hand information to aid them in voting intelligently and conscientiously on future appropriations for the fair.

2,000,000 Jobs.

Administrator Johnson's estimate of 2,000,000 jobs having been restored since the national recovery program became effective is as good as any. It is admittedly an arbitrary figure; no one knows and probably no one ever will know with statistical accuracy how many units have been added to the employment total as the result of the recovery act.

The actual number is less important than the condition which makes it possible for any estimate at all to be made. There may be quibbling over the trend. An important number of men who had been idle for months and years are working and earning wages. No one questions that.

There is an understandable temptation to believe that because recovery is being aided by artificial stimulation it will come about in a far shorter time than can be anticipated reasonably. In this connection, it is well to recall what were the prospects of recovery before interest became centered in NRA.

It was conceded then that the return from depression would be as tortuous as the descent. Frequent warnings were given that recovery would be so slow that years would be required to realize it, even after it had taken place. An estimate of 2,000,000 men reemployed by the latter part of August in 1933 would have been scouted actively as recently as inauguration day last March.

Yet 2,000,000 is little enough on the basis of 12,000,000 unemployed at the beginning of the summer. It is less than 20 per cent. If it is considered that probably the most direct results of the recovery stimulation administered during the summer have been felt, the total is not too large. There will be some who will say it might have reached the same proportions from operation of purely natural causes.

The ultimate effect, of course, remains problematical. The additional buying power represented by 2,000,000 earners may be sufficient to give the recovery movement the tremendous impetus it must receive to prove itself anything but theory. In all probability, however, it is best to expect the least and save enthusiasm for anything over that.

A woman known as the "blond tigress" has been sentenced to 199 years in prison for participating in a holdup murder in Chicago, and that seems to be a pretty good job of wild animal taming.

Comment of the Press

CAREFUL DRIVING.

What constitutes careful automobile driving? We need to have drivers classified by close observation so that those who show defective methods can be penalized.

When the country becomes a little richer it would be a fine idea to have largely-increased force of traffic officers, many of whom should be assigned to the duty of inspecting drivers, and making records showing their habits when passing through hazardous places. Those who are given bad marks should be educated to better conduct by adequate penalties.

There are two kinds of situations in which traffic inspectors could well be stationed. One is at street intersections in thickly settled districts. An officer concealed behind a tree, so that motorists should not be conscious of his presence, could get a good line on the habits of drivers. He would spot many offenders who are a menace to the public.

Another good place for such inspectors would be near lines of parked cars in city streets. Absent-minded persons frequently dodge out behind parked cars into the path of an approaching automobile. Many drivers feel that if an accident happens, under such conditions, the pedestrian is wholly responsible. But that is not so.

Drivers should so abhor the thought of injuring anybody that they would drive slowly past such cars and be prepared to stop even if some careless person does suddenly emerge into the street. People are absorbed in their own thoughts and will unconsciously do things that are [illegible]. Drivers should have a little mercy on such [illegible] and avoid chances of accident by driving slowly in such situations.—Newark Advocate.

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND.

Prickly Heat Often Due to Diet.

I [illegible] lots of letters requesting information regarding prickly heat. This is an inflammation of the [illegible] which commonly affects infants and young children during hot weather. The affliction is very annoying to the child and may alarm the parent although it is rarely of a serious nature.

It is a strange malady and affects some children more frequently and more seriously than others. In fact some unfortunate youngsters are extremely sensitive to this disturbance. Others rarely, if ever, have it. A child who has a delicate and sensitive skin is particularly liable to develop prickly heat.

Bright red blotches suddenly appear on the skin. These red patches may be covered with small blisters. The rash spreads with great rapidity over the neck, forehead, back and chest. Itching and stinging are the chief symptoms.

The attack usually continues for two or three days. In extremely susceptible children it may last for many weeks.

Many mothers become alarmed at the first sight of such an inflammation. They fear the child is the victim of some serious and perhaps contagious disease. May I assure the worried mother that prickly heat is not a serious disturbance and it quickly responds to simple treatment.

The inflammation of the skin is traced to an irritation of the small sweat glands in the skin. During hot weather these glands secrete profusely and are liable to inflammation and irritation as a result of over activity. The fluid thrown out by the sweat gland is acid in reaction and if too great in quantity readily irritates a sensitive skin.

During very hot weather children with sensitive skins should not be permitted to engage in strenuous and exciting play. They should not be exposed to excessive heat and sunshine. Often, too, the inflammation of the skin can be traced to over-clothing or to tight and irritating clothing. During warm weather the child should be attired in loose, cool garments.

As I have said, the inflammation can always be traced to the overactivity of the sweat glands. But there is a belief that prickly heat results from the eating of certain foods during hot weather.

If the inflammation of the skin is due to food it can [illegible] be traced to a diet carrying an excessive quantity of protein foods, such as meat, cereals and eggs. For this reason, I would advise that the diet be very carefully planned during hot weather. It should consist of easily digested substances that are nutritious but will not tend to bring about digestive disturbances.

Bear in mind that prickly heat can be prevented by frequent bathing, careful drying of the skin and the use of good toilet powder. Relief from the inflammation can be obtained by the application of an appropriate lotion. In certain cases bland powders prescribed by the physician are more beneficial than a lotion. YOUTH AND DUTY.

For some years [illegible] there has been a movement [illegible] children to follow the line of [illegible] resistance in their choice of [illegible] both at home and in school [illegible] selects for himself what he wishes to study or play and [illegible] is possible allowed to guide [illegible] own pursuits.

Of course, it is all a reaction from an older notion that what was pleasant was necessarily wrong and that training [illegible] for [illegible] to do what he disliked.

I am not sure which school of thought is the more harmful, and feel convinced that there [illegible] dle ground so far [illegible] which, if found, might [illegible] weaknesses of both systems.

Certainly the child who [illegible] only from a sense of duty is [illegible] ted for a happy life. But [illegible] one who works only at what he likes. Some things must be done because, for reasons not yet clear to the child, they are essential to his development both as a useful citizen and as a happy and contented individual.

Into every life there come times when duty, old-fashioned as the word sounds, [illegible] Today, more than ever, the world is full of men who, never having learned to [illegible] earn a living [illegible] women who, being deserted, must go out and find a job to support the family.

The child is father of the man, and the best preparation for the exigencies of life probably would include a certain proportion of practice in doing what one must [illegible] to do, willingly, if possible, but if it is not possible, then because it is obligatory. His whole future may depend upon it.

Highlights of Ohio History

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

JEALOUS OF OHIO.

Of the presidents of the United States, but one has been taken from the state of Pennsylvania, and that one, many felt, was one of the weakest the country had had—James Buchanan. Thus the Keystone state has developed jealously of states such as Ohio, which have contributed liberally to the nation's statesmanship.

Editors of Pennsylvania newspapers have at various times listed the attributes of their favorite sons but the comparisons in each case showed that those of other states had advanced farther. There was, for instance, Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, ranked with Woodrow Wilson as a teacher and educator. But Wilson was governor of New Jersey and went on to the presidency. As soldiers, both John White Geary and John Hartranft of Pennsylvania excelled Hayes, McKinley and Roosevelt, all of whom went to the White House. As scholar and judge, S. W. Pennypacker fully matched William Howard Taft, it was pointed out, but Taft went up. Similar comparisons recall the droll comment of old John Randolph of Roanoke on Pennsylvania as a producer of men. He said on one occasion that the Keystone state had produced "just two great men—Benjamin Franklin of Massachusetts and Albert Gallatin of Switzerland."

A Washington Daybook

Washington, Sept. 1—Although the [illegible] game of partisan politics at the present is suffering somewhat from the [illegible] the [illegible] time [illegible] vival of the favorite [illegible] may be expected.

HERBERT PLUMMER

It [illegible] already there are [illegible] of an [illegible] even though they be but faint.

Iowa's Republican Senator Dickinson, addressing a luncheon club the other day took the Roosevelt administration to task rather severely and warned that we must return to the old principles if we are to prosper.

In the East Big Jim Farley is predicting that Roosevelt will be re-elected in 1936 more easily and with an even greater majority than he was in 1932. The only thing necessary, asserts the Democratic chairman, is to return to the time principles expressed by the party in the early days of the [illegible] and the [illegible] ance in power [illegible] to [illegible] expect.

Senator Dickinson will [illegible] play an important part in the 1934 campaign to hold, and if possible increase the Republican line in the senate. And as for Mr. Farley, well, all heads of national political committees are expected to exude confidence in all seasons.

But when politics gets under way with full steam—and the grand game will begin to gather momentum when congress gets back in January—there's a combination in the Democratic ranks which will be worthwhile to watch.

It's to be found in the President's own cabinet and is composed of Cordell Hull, Homer Cummings and Jim Farley—secretary of state, attorney general and postmaster general, respectively.

Two former chairmen of the Democratic national committee and the man who holds down that job at the present, a trio which represents a widespread party experience of a highly practical order.

• • •

Little has happened in the [illegible] circles of the Democratic party in recent times with which one or another of these men has not been intimately concerned.

It was not a planned arrangement on the part of Mr. Roosevelt. The presence of Cummings is more or less an accident. He was [illegible] into the department of [illegible] Senator Walsh of Montana [illegible] chose for the post died suddenly.

But the fact remains that the President has at his elbow, in his official family, a trio of experts and highly practical party leaders.

Those facing charges of breaking and entering are William Stiffler of Marion, charged by Chief Markert with forcing entrance to a storeroom of W. J. Guy on June 18, and James Freeman of Kentucky, charged by Prosecutor Wilhelm with forcing entrance to the R. L. Goetting grocery on March 31.

Harld Crissinger of Marion faces a charge of stealing an automobile valued at $200 from J. W. Harruff on Jan. 10, and Merle Mason of Marion faces a similar charge for the admitted theft of a sedan, valued at $300, from Mrs. W. E. Borden of Delaware on Aug. 20.

LaRue Case Up

Five separate charges, all interlocked and growing out of alleged mishandling of 3,000 ducks belonging to the Ridgway Duck Hatchery at LaRue, face Elza Newland. They are removing mortgaged property, selling mortgaged property, converting mortgaged property, embezzlement and fraud. The charges were brought against him by D. C. Ridgway. Charles S. Huston, 60, of Marion, faces investigation on an 11-year-old offense. It is charged by W. H. Scott that he sold an automobile on June 27, 1922, on which the Marion Overland Co. held a mortgage for $75.

Frank Guliuzza of Marion is charged with signing a statement to the effect that his intended bride, Georgia Pauline Hoch, was 22 years old at the time they applied for a marriage license last June 13. The affidavit, filed by Harry D. Hoch, states that Guliuzza knew at the time that Miss Hoch was only 15.

Booker T. Johnson, colored, of Marion is charged with cutting with intent to wound George Crowder on July 4. George Vorhees is charged with assault and battery on Richard Johnson.

Two cases now slated for grand jury consideration may be otherwise disposed of, officials indicated today. They are charges of manufacturing whisky, pending against Ralph Kenyon and William Kenyon, both of Marion.

CITY RELIEF PLAN CHANGED

Commissary To Close Sept. 5; Grocers To Provide All Supplies.

Closing of the city relief department's food commissary in the Davis Street school building is set for Sept. 5, Safety Director [illegible] M. Murphy said this morning.

The step taken on request of the state relief commission [illegible] pass in all grocery orders [illegible] for the full amount of [illegible] rations and are [illegible] any independent grocery in Marion, Mr. Murphy said.

A district representative of the state relief commission, Walter V. Hixenbaugh of Columbus, will make periodic visits to the relief department which will be operated under his supervision as representative of the federal government. Funds for the department's operations are supplied by the state commission through grants from the federal government, Mr. Murphy said, except for a portion which is financed through gasoline tax receipts.

Mr. Murphy appealed to grocers to adhere strictly to a request that they submit their bills to the city relief department twice a month, on the first and the sixteenth. This must be done, he said, in order to properly keep track of accounts.

Approximately 1,000 families receiving aid now will be affected by the change, Mr. Murphy said. One order is issued each week to a family, ranging from $2.25 to $4.50, depending on the size of the family. There are many families with as many as 14 members, he said, and a number with 18.

The commissary will cease to operate Saturday at noon, Mr. Murphy said, although, because of the Labor day holiday, final affairs will not be wound up until Tuesday.

Marion Man Is Elected

M. E. Sabback of 155 South Main street was elected a director of the Ohio Retail Confectioners association meeting in Columbus yesterday afternoon, according to an Associated Press dispatch. A code of fair practices was adopted by the association. C. W. Barth of Marietta also was elected a director.

RUSE BRINGS MAN HERE FOR ARREST

Met by police last night about 8:30 as he got off a passenger train at the Union station, Ralph Smith, 29, of 696 Wood street, was arrested on a warrant sworn to by his wife, charging non-support of two children.

Mrs. Smith's attorney said this morning that Smith had been in Pennsylvania, apparently looking for work, and had been asked to come back on a pretext, only to be arrested.

Smith pleaded not guilty to the charge in municipal court this morning and will have a hearing Tuesday at 10 a. m. Judge William R. Martin set his bond at $200, which had not been furnished at noon today.

SAIL ALONG WITH YOUTH!
IT'S always smooth sailing for those who feel young. And you can feel young at any age if you get plenty of the things that youth is made of: proteins and minerals, carbohydrates and vitamins. That's what the [illegible] authorities call these vital elements. You can call them something simpler—just ask for Shredded Wheat.
For Nature stores all these youth-building elements in her richest cereal grain—whole wheat. And Shredded Wheat is whole wheat with nothing added, nothing taken away. It's whole wheat with all its vital elements, all the bran just as Nature measured it.
Won't you try this vitally different food...for at least 10 days? It's ready cooked, ready to eat. Serve it with milk or cream. Add the fresh or preserved fruit that you prefer. And watch it wake your appetite...and your youth!
When you see Niagara Falls on the package, you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.

The HIDDEN DOOR

Y FRANK L. PACKARD

ight 1933, Frank L. Packard.

Heimie Schwarm pulled a sealed envelope from his pocket and handed it to Benny Malone.

"A . . . " he said. "There's too much doing tonight and I can't wait . . . him that. Tell him it's the . . . he wanted, and that I'll have everything ready for him. Understand?"

" . . . " said Benny Malone. "Leave it to me. So long, Heimie."

"So long," returned Heimie Schwarm, and, with a nod to Colin, went out of the room.

"That's tough about Harry," said Benny Malone morosely as he lounged back on the sofa.

Colin sat down again.

"It sure is," he agreed, "but I guess from what this fellow Heimie said it'll be fixed up without much trouble. And speaking of Harry, has Detective Sergeant Mulvey been nosing around for you today?"

Benny Malone permitted a grin to drive away his morose expression.

"Nothing doing!" he answered. "So it's a cinch he didn't get my number last night."

"That's good," said Colin heartily. He paused for a drag on his cigarette, then apologetically: "Look here, I guess there's a lot I've got to be wised up on. Who's this Heimie and what's his other name? You didn't mention it."

"Schwarm," said Benny Malone. "Heimie Schwarm. He's a foam czar. Every bootlegger in town knows him. He runs the suds and hard-stuff racket for the Mask."

Colin dragged again on his cigaret. His mind was probing swiftly, striving to bring order out of confusion. Last night at Spinelli's—Bellaire and Heimie Schwarm together. Heimie Schwarm one of the Mask's big shots—what was the Mask's game? No answer—but not nice for Bellaire, whatever it was!

"I see," he nodded. "And who's Buck? You said something about me traveling with him from now on."

"Buck O'Mara," explained Benny Malone. "He's the big shot of our mob—and a damned square shooter. You'll like him."

"I hope that'll go double," said Colin earnestly. "What's our mob's particular racket?"

* * *

IT WAS growing dark. Benny Malone got up and switched on an electric light.

"Anything—everything," he replied with a short laugh. "Wherever we're needed. You'll see. And you'll get your first work-out tonight?"

"Well, then," asked Colin complacently, "what's doing tonight?"

Benny Malone shook his head.

"I don't know—yet. We'll get our orders from Buck. But never mind about that. I've got to finish giving you the low-down on this dump before he comes in. It used to be a pretty hot joint that was named the Wine Press—we call it W. P., get me? And it was all fixed up with passages and half a dozen ways to get in and out—playing the boobs for suckers, you understand?

"The boobs being the slumming parties that blew down from Fifth avenue way looking for shivers and thrills and thinking they were naughty. That cobbler's shop, which maybe you say when you came along, used to be a grotto all got up fancy with low lights and a secret way out and a way into here—both of which same are still useful! Solly down there was one of the bunch that was giving you the once-over at lunch, and he'll pass you in that way any time it's necessary. He cobbles all right—see?—but that ain't the way he makes his money."

"It sounds swell!" Colin exclaimed eagerly. "Go on, Benny. Keep on shooting. It looks like the place had been made to order. How did the Mask get onto it?"

"Knew about it, I suppose, when it was running full blast back in the old days," Benny Malone answered with a shrug of his shoulders. "That's a long time ago—before the war and before the booze law started making money for us. I guess there aren't many even around here that remember the name it went by then.

"When the law came in against it the people who were running the place kept it going . . . just the same until they got pinched . . . times to make them quit . . . Then somebody else tried to run it in the . . . as a restaurant and it was a flop. It wasn't good for anything the way it was. It was put up for sale and I guess it went cheap—or else old Keppelstein would never have bought it!

"He made two houses out of it, but he didn't spend any more on alterations than he had to, so he left this part a good deal like it was, except that he put in a store front at this end. He moved into the other part himself."

"I saw an old bird sitting on the porch as I came along," observed Colin. "Was that him?"

Given in Marriage

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge experiences a strange feeling of impending disaster as the moonlight riders drive off, leaving her with Lee Chow.

THERE was something in Lee Chow's usually monotonous voice so tense, so fraught with some hidden meaning that I put out my hand and gripped the back of a chair near me with the feeling that I needed actual physical support to keep me on my feet.

"But if Hugh asks you go?" he had said, and the last word had been so explosive that it seemed almost as if a detonating cap were behind his voice.

He meant me to obey his suggestion. In fact, he was willing me to do it; and at the thought all my natural independence, the resentment of domination which is, perhaps, my strongest characteristic, or fault, asserted itself.

The Ultimatum

The wily Chinese had overshot his mark. If he had said simply that he had changed his mind and wished to go to the beach, I might have accepted Hugh's invitation if, indeed, he decided to ask me after Edith's rebuff. But the eagerness in Lee Chow's manner decided me I would be no party to any scheme of his, no matter how much my piqued vanity clamored its sympathy with his proposal.

"I will not go to the beach tonight, under any circumstances," I whispered firmly, looking Lee Chow steadily in the eyes as I gave the ultimatum.

He has all the inscrutability of his race, but for the flashing fraction of a second something so baleful, so menacing, gleamed in those sloe-black eyes that I choked back a gasp of pure terror.

The next instant his face was so bland, so almost beatific in its kindly expression that I wondered if I were permitting my terror to rob me of my common sense.

"As you wish, of course," he said, bowing low. Then, to my infinite relief, he moved away from me, and my lively sense of terror began to abate.

I could not help a queer, tingling feeling of expectancy. I know that Hugh must be fiercely resentful of Dicky's action which, in masculine code, was a rather scurvy trick for one man to play upon another. Would he feed that resentment by repaying Dicky in kind, and asking me to go on the moonlight drive with him; or would he, as always, do the calm, judicial thing which seemed to him the best thing for me?

I never shall know the answer to that question, however. Avis Allen did not even give Edith an opportunity to reply to Hugh's gallant proposal for a future drive in lieu of the one she had just declined. With a stiffening, slinky movement of her slender figure, in its green and silver gown, she came up to him.

"I hope that doesn't mean you're going to pass the rest of us up, just because Miss Fairfax cannot go with you," she said. "I've been just dying for a drive in this moonlight, but I can't bear to be rumpled, so I didn't go with the crowd in the other car. Don't you think I might substitute for Miss Fairfax?"

There was only one answer, of course, to be made to such an entreaty, and Hugh made it. But before he spoke he sent me a glance of appeal which I knew was wholly involuntary, but which was none the less deadly in its effect upon Dicky, who, to my dismay, was watching Hugh closely.

"I shall be happy indeed," Hugh said, bowing from the waist. "If you will permit me to be your cavalier upon the drive. But you will need a wrap."

"Please come along and help me find one," Avis said, and putting out her hand in much the manner of a confiding child, she caught his, and drew him toward the house.

"Any more turtle doves yearning for twin coops?" Harry Underwood drawled.

"Are you by any chance trying to make a particularly bad pun?" Dicky demanded, and I guessed that he welcomed any diversion. "For if you are, you'll never leave this farm yard alive."

"No, I don't mean 'coupes'," Mr. Underwood retorted. "I know how to pronounce it, if you don't. Only a low-life like you would try to twist a really witty comment into a bad pun. But, as I was saying, how about the rest of us getting started in the big cars?"

They all seconded his suggestion with alacrity, and in another two minutes Lee Chow and I were left alone in the moonlit farm yard.

FARMERS CROP MEET

[illegible] Wheat

[illegible] charge [illegible] y agricultural assist-ant for the county, said a guide will be posted on the street to direct farmers to the auditorium.

Seventy-f[illegible]e of the farmers took [illegible] application blanks at last [illegible] meeting, Gilbert said.

Two questions of major interest [illegible] raised last night, Gilbert said, fol-[illegible]

Will a w[illegible] at farmer be allowed [illegible] grow fe[illegible] for work horses on the contract[illegible]d acreage taken out [illegible] m wheat? A wheat farmer, Gil-bert said, [illegible] not be allowed to [illegible] feed crop on the con-tracted [illegible] for work horses or for home con[illegible]sumption if by so do-ing he releases other crops for sale either directly or indirectly. In case he were very short of feed and this was the only hay available, then the use of hay from this acreage would be justified.

Must a farmer's contracted acres be located [illegible] the wheat [illegible] on the farm? The farmer can de-clare any piece of his farm to be his contracted [illegible] but the amount [illegible] and [illegible] acreage must [illegible] sections of the [illegible]

Gilbert was assisted [illegible] by Louis Anderson of Grand township and H. W. W[illegible] of M[illegible] tem-porary committee [illegible] and Dr. F. S. Fields.

MORROW COUNTY TO GET NEW INDUSTRY

Concentrated Fertilizer Plant To Be Established at Mt. Gilead.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Sept. 1—A new in-dustrial plant will be in operation here within a short time according to E. H. Rogers who expects to be-gin the manufacture of a concen-trated fertilizer in the building formerly occupied by the V[illegible] Seed Chemical Co.

The company will be known as the Acme Plant Food Co. The con-centrated product is made primar-ily for the use of gardeners and landscapers. With the estimated output to be produced Rogers said that approximately 10 [illegible] men would be required to start the plant in operation. Rogers recently came to Mt. Gilead from Toledo.

RAILROAD POLICE WAR ON COAL THEFTS

Marion Man Given $25 Fine by Waldo Justice of the Peace.

Pennsylvania railroad detectives warring against thefts of coal from trains passing through this dis-trict, announce they will adopt strict measures to break up the practice.

Yesterday, Arthur Pine, alias Jack Pine, of 540 Van Buren street was arrested for allegedly stealing half a ton of coal from a freight car at the Lucas road 10 miles north of Marion. Taken before Justice of the Peace J. W. Grigsby of Waldo, Pine was fined $25 and costs of $6.20.

Pine was lodged in the Marion county jail yesterday afternoon to serve out the fine and costs.

J. F. Gilson, railroad police ser-geant, asserted today that a ma-jority of the coal thefts are per-formed by persons who in turn sell the coal. Many of them board the trains at certain points, Gilson said, stack a quantity of the coal along the sides of the top of the car and when a desolated spot is reached throw off the coal.

Last year the officer said the Pennsylvania railroad lost $29,0[illegible] from coal thefts on the Columbus-Sandusky division, including Mar-ion.

FACES COURT CHARGE

Russell McQuiston of six miles northeast of Marion was to be ar-raigned in municipal court today on a charge of assault and battery. McQuiston was arrested yesterday by a sheriff's deputy on a com-plaint by his wife that he had as-saulted her.

CARDINGTON MAN IS STRICKEN AT HOME

Dennis Pepper, 82, Found Dead After Stroke of Apoplexy.

CARDINGTON, Sept. 1—Dennis Pepper, 82, brother of Miss Kate Pepper who killed herself in a jump from the bridge here into Whet-stone creek in April, was found dead last night at 10 at his home here. Neighbors found the body after they had searched several hours. Coroner Todd Carls re-turned a verdict of death by apo-plexy. Mr. Pepper had lived alone since the death of his 69-year-old sister.

Nieces and nephews are his only surviving relatives. Mr. Pepper had lived nearly all of his life in Carding-ton and vicinity. He was a re-tired farmer. The body was re-moved to the home of Misses Mar-garet and Alice Pepper to await funeral arrangements.

FRUIT AND BERRIES ARE CHEAP TODAY

SE BERRIES PERFECT, JOE! THE PRICES ARE REASONABLE . . . E ME 8 BASKETS.
LET ME ADD TWO BOTTLES OF CERTO TO YOUR ORDER, MRS. BARR. IT WILL MAKE BETTER JELLY AND SAVE YOU SO MUCH TIME.

Join the hundreds who are now going to grocers to get fruit, Certo and sugar with which to put up a record supply of jellies and jams.

They won't last long—these marvel-ous fruits at such low prices! So start right now to fill your jam cupboard with jams and jellies. How your fam-ily will thank you next winter.

And be sure to use Certo this year! With Certo and the Certo recipes you can make double the amount of jelly in the usual time. The Certo short-boil method, you see, cuts the boiling time. Jellies take only ½ minute boil-ing, and jams rarely require more than a minute.

Finer flavor, too!

And with Certo you will get far finer-tasting jelly or jam—with every bit of the delicate fresh fruit flavor of fully ripe fruit.

You get as much as one-half again more glasses, too, from the same amount of fruit. Because, with the Certo short-boil method, no costly fruit juice has time to boil away.

So get your fruits and berries now—when they are at their cheapest and finest. And start at once to fill next winter's cupboard with marvelous jams and jellies that will delight you—and every member of your family!

Certo is a product of General Foods.

Braves Drub Giants in First Game of Crucial Series

7-2 SETBACK SLICES GOTHAM CLUB'S LEAD TO ONLY 5 GAMES

Both Teams Lose One Star Player Through Sickness and Injury.

By The Associated Press

Both crippled by serious casualties, the Boston Braves and the New York Giants resumed their [illegible] National league series [illegible] today with much depending on [illegible] tried reserves.

Victorious yesterday, 7 to 2, in the first battle of the [illegible] engagement, the Braves [illegible] pace-setting Giants [illegible] games with the [illegible] their well rounded [illegible] was intact while New York [illegible] four had begun [illegible] overwork.

The rival managers [illegible] to call out their [illegible] ever as the result [illegible] which will keep two [illegible] players out of the [illegible] remainder of the season.

Randy Moore Hurt

Randy Moore [illegible] slugging outfielder [illegible] fractured bone in his right [illegible] he was hit [illegible] melee's pitch [illegible] Vergez, Giant [illegible] third baseman was recovering from an [illegible] appendix operation [illegible]

This unexpected turn of [illegible] left [illegible] the five remaining games [illegible] will be played in [illegible] today. Manager Bill Terry was expected to plug the [illegible] Giants infield with [illegible] James, a good [illegible] no match for Vergez at the plate.

Joe Mowry, the [illegible] from St. Paul, was [illegible] McKechnie's choice to replace Moore in the Braves right garden.

Both Vergez and Moore played important roles yesterday. Vergez, although suffering from abdominal pains from the start of the game, accounted for the Giants' first run with a homer and later singled. His error in the eighth, however, opened the way for the Tribe's winning five run rally.

Moore, who was hit in the first inning and then forced to leave the game in the fifth, cut off a New York run in the first inning, nailing Hughie Critz at the plate on a beautiful peg from deep right field.

Berger Hits Homer

Wally Berger, the Boston powerhouse, sent Ben Cantwell into a lead with his twenty fifth home run in the first inning and with another run added on a hit batsman, a pass and Hal Lee's double the Braves were never behind.

The Giants-Braves game overshadowed the rest of the major league program although the Pittsburgh Pirates completed their [illegible] [illegible] Pirates [illegible] one half game back of the Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals closed in with a double victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

In contrast to their previous pitching duels the Pirates took a 13 to 11 slugfest from the Phillies for the Corsairs' fifth straight. [illegible] Chuck Klein hit his twenty fifth homer to keep pace with [illegible]. The Cards had little trouble beating the Dodgers 10 to 3 and 10 to 4.

In the American league the Boston Red Sox finally succeeded in winning their first game at the Yankee stadium, walloping the champions 15 to 2 to drop them eight and one half games back of the idle Senators. Punching seven of their 12 hits in two innings the Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago White Sox 4 to 1.

All other teams were idle.

CAREY SEMI-PROS TO PLAY TOLEDO

Don Donelson's Carey Semi Pros will take on the Olds Motors of Toledo for the second time this season Sunday at Carey. The Olds team defeated the Careys combine before but the Semi-Pros have been improving of late and hope to reverse the decision this time.

This will be the last single game of the season for Carey. The Semi-Pros will play in tournaments on Sept. 10 and 17.

Bill Lee To Boston?

BABE DENIES REPORT HE'S READY TO QUIT

Bambino Indignant at Suggestion He Will Hang Up Spikes

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—So far from being ready to retire, Babe Ruth is looking forward to playing regularly again for the New York Yankees next season.

Indignant at reports that he had decided to "hang up his spikes," the big slugger declared he was by no means convinced he could no longer play regularly despite his 39 years.

"So much has been written about my plans for next year," the Babe said in a formal statement, "that I wish to make myself clear on this matter. I will make no decision about retiring from baseball until I am convinced I [illegible] play. I will not know that until 1934, until I have had some spring training. I hope to play next year. I [illegible] I will be able to [illegible] for the present at least I am not retiring."

In questions relating to persistent rumors he might manage either the Boston Red Sox or the Chicago White Sox in 1934, the Babe replied he hadn't talked with anyone about a manager's job and knew nothing of any offer or action on that subject.

MEANWHILE- WHAT OF TOM CARR, WHOSE PEACE WAS SO DISTURBED BY THE WILD WORDS OF TOWNSEND ZANDER ? — AND HENRIETTA- HOW CAN SHE CONCEAL THE TRUTH ANY LONGER ?
WHAT DID THAT INSANE FELLOW MEAN WHEN HE SAID THAT HENRIETTA WAS HIS WIFE ?
OH-TOM-DEAR-I WILL TELL YOU ALL- HOW CRUEL I HAVE BEEN TO KEEP IT FROM YOU- THAT MAN WAS NOT A LUNATIC - BUT TOWNSEND ZANDER- WHOM I MARRIED YEARS AGO WHILE STILL A GIRL IN MY TEENS - THEN HE DESERTED ME TO GO TO THE GOLD FIELDS - HE WAS REPORTED KILLED - I COLLECTED HIS INSURANCE - AND HE WAS DECLARED LEGALLY DEAD- THEN AFTER TWENTY YEARS HE CAME BACK- A FIEND IN HUMAN FORM- WITH THREATS AND CURSES- HE SAID HE WAS STILL MARRIED TO ME- WHEN HE SAW HOW HAPPY WE WERE AND FOUND OUT THAT YOU WERE WEALTHY- HE DEMANDED MONEY- AND I HAD TO GIVE IT TO HIM AT THE POINT OF A GUN-
EVEN THOSE PEARLS YOU GAVE ME- HE FORCED ME TO PAWN THEM TO GIVE HIM MONEY - OH TOM- WHAT I'VE BEEN THROUGH! HOW I HATE THAT BEAST- HOW I DETEST THAT MONSTER-
AND TO THINK I NEVER KNEW ALL THIS -

IT'S SCANDALOUS HOW COLONEL HOOFER PICKS ON CASPER, BUT DOWN IN HIS HEART HE THINKS MORE OF HIM THAN ANY MAN IN THE WORLD TOOTS!
I'LL BET YOU NEARLY FAINTED WHEN YOU FOUND OUT THAT I HAD THE ROOM NEXT TO YOU AT THE HOTEL!
I NEVER DREAMT I'D FIND YOU THERE SHRIMP BECAUSE IT'S AN EXCLUSIVE HOTEL AND I EXPECTED TO SEE ONLY EXCLUSIVE GUESTS!
I OVERHEARD YOU IN THERE PANNING ME TO SOPHIE AND YOU WERE TALKING PLENTY LOUD!
OF COURSE I WAS KNOCKING YOU! WHAT HAVE YOU EVER DONE TO CAUSE ANYBODY TO SPEAK KINDLY ABOUT YOU?
JIMMY MURPHY
DON'T MAKE ME STOP PANNING YOU SHRIMP BECAUSE THAT'S ABOUT THE ONLY REAL PLEASURE I GET OUT OF LIFE!

LOST $20 [illegible] from [illegible] Citizens First [illegible] National City Bank [illegible] Reward. Ph. 842. [illegible] Wallmeth, 543 A[illegible]

This Unhappy Story Turned Into a Joyful One With a Marion Star Lost & Found Adv.

Mrs. Wallmeth has a very unfortunate experience [illegible] of losing a $20 bill while up town settling her regular monthly accounts. At first sign of the loss she placed an Ad in Saturday's edition. The paper boys started delivery at 3:45 and at 4:35 Mrs. Carter of Girard avenue phoned Mrs. Wallmeth, saying that she had found the "Lost Bill" ($20) in a local bank.

Now That's Results.

And the cost to the Advertiser was only 49c cash.

No matter what you lose or where you lose it, don't fail to place your "LOST AD" before thousands of Star Readers, and probably the person who found your LOST.

TRADING SLOW IN GRAIN PIT

Grain Dealings Sharply Curtailed in Face of Triple Holiday.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept 1—Speculative grain dealings were sharply curtailed today in the face of the triple holiday ahead. With all American grain exchanges closed tomorrow and Monday there was no disposition to establish new commitments and trading remained close to shore.

Both wheat and corn opened lower and showed little disposition to rally. Further deterioration of the corn crop was shown in the average of the unofficial month's crop estimates indicating a crop of 2,235,000,000 bushels, a reduction of 105,000,000 from the Aug. 1 estimates. The condition of the crop was placed around 60 per cent, the lowest with one exception in 20 years. Even this bullish showing failed to rally corn.

Wheat closed dull and weak near the day's top level but [illegible] below yesterday's finish.

Corn easy and [illegible] lower.

Oats unchanged to ¼ down, rye [illegible] off to [illegible] up, and provisions mixed, ranging from 10 cents lower to 8 cents advanced.

LABOR DAY TALKS ON THREE CHAINS

Nation's Leaders To Speak Over Air On Monday Programs.

All three major radio networks have scheduled Labor day talks by prominent leaders. The speakers for Monday, as announced, follow:

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, from the World's fair in Chicago, over the combined NBC chains at 3:45 p. m.; William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, addressing a labor rally at Akron, O., over the NBC-WEAF network at 1:45 p. m.; Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, over the Columbia network at 8 p. m.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, speaking from a Pittsburgh labor rally, over the NBC-WJZ network at 2:45 p. m.; Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, on "Racketeering in Business," from Washington, D. C., at 8:30 p. m. over the NBC-WEAF network.

A description of the international free-for-all air races in Chicago will come over an NBC-WEAF hook-up at 5 p. m.

TWO DAYS LEFT FOR PAYMENT OF TAXES

Smallwood Warns of Deadline To Escape Penealty; Office Closed Monday.

Saturday and Tuesday will be the only opportunity, after today, for Marion county residents to pay June real estate taxes without penalty, County Treasurer R. G. Smallwood warned taxpayers today.

The collection, up to this morning, amounted to $362,149.55, he said. The office will be closed Monday because of the Labor Day holiday.

WALDO DEMOCRATS TO CAUCUS TUESDAY

Waldo township Democrats will hold a caucus Tuesday night in the township house to nominate village and township officers, it was announced today. Ed Bender is Democratic chairman for the township, Roscoe Strine for the village.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation for the kindness and sympathy extended us during the accidental death of our darling baby, Carol Louise Miller. Also we wish to thank the neighbors and friends for the beautiful flowers, Rev. Shillinger for his consoling words, the singer, pallbearers, W. C. Bond for his kind services and those who furnished cars or assisted us in any way.
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Miller and Children.
